GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY, PSYCHODRAMA & SOCIOMETRY

Vol. XXIX 1976

CONTENTS

Editorial ii

A Category System for Dramaturgical Analysis—A. Paul Hare 1

Evaluating a Psychiatric Hospital Psychodrama Inservice Training Program—Gerard R. Kelly 15

The Director's Soliloquy and the Director's Double—John Nolte and Ann Hale 23

An Experimental Use of Structured Techniques in Group Psychotherapy—Betty M. Kaseman 33

The Theatre of the Now: Insight through Improvisational Drama—Anne-Geale Hewson and Uldis Kundrats 40

The "Shut Up!" Technique for Releasing Inhibited Anger—James M. Sacks 52

SOCIOMETRY SECTION

A Sociometric View of Recent History: The Rise and Fall of Leadership—J. L. Moreno and Zerka T. Moreno 63

A Consistency Measure of Sociometric Status Related to the Development of Selected Personality Factors—C. Ewing Cooley 70

Doctoral Dissertations in Sociometry—Joe W. Hart 75

Applications of the Person Perception Inventory—Robert H. Dolliver, David X. Swenson and Terry L. Walter 85

Sociometric Families: Theory in Action at the Intimate Community Workshop—Clare Danielsson 93

The Use of Sociometry as an Identifier of Research Sample for Psychological Treatment and Quantifier of Change among Second Grade Students—Lauren E. Lucas Yates 102

SUB-SECTION: Use of Sociometric Techniques with Mentally Retarded and Learning Disabled Children—Leonard J. McCaffery, Jr., guest editor 111

A Sociometric Study of Learning Disability Children and Type of Teaching Strategy—Jerry B. Hutton and Linda Polo 113

Identifying Ways of Distinguishing "Choice Activity" from "Closure Movements" when Administering Pictorial Sociometric Techniques (PST) to the Mentally Retarded—Joe W. Hart 121

A Sociometric Technique for Use with Moderately to Severely Retarded Persons—Peggy L. Pack and Leonard J. McCaffrey, Jr. 127

In Memorian: J. L. Moreno 130

Helen Hall Jennings 135

Sixth International Congress of Group Psychotherapy 136

Moreno Institute 137

American Society of Group Psychotherapy and Psychodrama 144

Book Review 145

Founded by J. L. Moreno, 1947

EDITORIAL

This issue represents a further change in the policy of Beacon House. The production costs of all journals have risen to the point where drastic economy must be exercised. We are therefore combining the two journals, formerly published as GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY AND PSYCHODRAMA and INTERNATIONAL HANDBOOK OF SOCIOMETRY (both of these have already undergone changes of title in their lifetimes) into one, entitled: GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY, PSYCHODRAMA & SOCIOMETRY.

It seems also to be a fitting manner in which to underscore the essence of Moreno's system.

We appreciate the interest and support that our various endeavors have received from our readers over the years, and we thank you for your continued interest in the future. We do not believe that the current step will do anything to reduce the contribution the journals have made and hope you will assist us in keeping the journals a source of information not obtainable elsewhere.

Z. T. Moreno